Special Issue: Migration, gendered borders and human rights

Natalie Sedacca
Migrant domestic workers and the right to a private and family life

Vladislava Stoyanova
On the Bride’s side? Victims of domestic violence and their residence rights under EU and Council of Europe Law

Janna Wessels
The boundaries of universality - migrant women and domestic violence before the Strasbourg Court

Carmelo Danisi
Crossing borders between International Refugee Law and International Human Rights Law in the European context: Can human rights enhance protection against persecution based on sexual orientation (and beyond)?

Chrestel Querten
Gender and the boundaries of international refugee law: Beyond the category of ‘gender-related asylum claims’
CONTENTS

SPECIAL ISSUE: MIGRATION, GENDERED BORDERS AND HUMAN RIGHTS

COLUMN

MAUD DE BOER-BUIQCCCHIO
All rights for surrogacy-born children full scale

INTRODUCTION

EVA BREMS, LOURDES PERONI AND ELISHE DESMET
Migration and human rights: The law as a reinforcer of gendered borders

ARTICLES

NATALIE SEDACCA
Migrant domestic workers and the right to a private and family life

VLADISLAVA STOYANOVA
On the Bride's side? Victims of domestic violence and their residence rights under EU and Council of Europe Law

JANNA WESSELS
The boundaries of universality - migrant women and domestic violence before the Strasbourg Court

CARMELO DIAMÍ
Crossing borders between International Refugee Law and International Human Rights Law in the European context: Can human rights enhance protection against persecution based on sexual orientation (and beyond)?

CHRISTEL QUERTON
Gender and the boundaries of international refugee law: Beyond the category of 'gender-related asylum claims'

SIM FETER BAKER LECTURE

DUNJA MIATOVIC
From hostility to reconnection: How to make human rights relevant for all

RECENT PUBLICATIONS

Recent publications on international human rights