No violation of Articles 6 § 1, 6 § 2 or 14 (prohibition of discrimination) taken in conjunction with Article 6

Silickiene v. Lithuania

10.04.2012

Criminal proceedings against a former high ranking police officer for wide scale cigarette smuggling and ensuing confiscation of his property. He committed suicide while still detained. The courts concluded, after his death, that there was enough evidence that he had been in charge of the criminal organisation. His widow was not a party in those proceedings; she complained that the findings of the trial court against her late husband, and the confiscation of their family property on the basis of that finding, amounted to a fundamental abuse of process.

No violation of Article 6 §§ 1 and 2

No violation of Article 1 to Protocol No 1 \(right to protection of property\)

Right to a fair trial within a reasonable time

Kuolelis, Bartoševičius and Burokevičius v. Lithuania

19.02.2008

Concerned, in particular, the applicants' allegations that they were prosecuted and convicted for offences – subversive, anti-state activities committed in 1990 and 1991 in the context of their membership in the Lithuanian branch of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union at a time of political turmoil and the struggle for Lithuanian independence – which could not be foreseen under domestic or international law as, at the relevant time, Lithuania had not yet been recognised as an independent State.

No violation of Articles 6 § 1, 7 \(no punishment without law\), 9 \(freedom of thought, conscience and religion\), 10 \(freedom of expression\), 11 \(freedom of assembly and association\) or 14 \(prohibition of discrimination\)

Right to a fair hearing by an independent and impartial tribunal

Ramanauskas v. Lithuania (no. 2)

20.02.2018

The case concerned the applicant's conviction for bribery while he was working as a lawyer, and his allegation that he had been incited and pressured to commit the offence in unlawful entrapment.

No violation of Article 6 § 1

Violation of Article 14 \(prohibition of discrimination\) taken in conjunction with Article 8 in all three cases

Žičkus v. Lithuania

07.04.2009

Publicly denounced as a former secret KGB collaborator, the applicant complained that he lost his job – working in human resources of the Ministry of the Interior – and is now prevented from working in the private sector.

Violation of Article 14 \(prohibition of discrimination\) in conjunction with Article 8 \(protection of private and family life\) on account of Mr Žičkus being prevented from seeking employment in the private sector because he had collaborated with the special security services \(KGB\) during the communist era

Cases on Article 9 (freedom of thought, of conscience and religion)

Teliatnikov v. Lithuania

07.06.2022

The case concerned the applicant's request for an exemption from military service and application for civilian service owing to his religious beliefs as a Jehovah's Witness minister.

Violation of Article 9

Mockutė v. Lithuania

27.02.2018

The case concerned Ms Mockutė's right to privacy and right to religious freedom during her involuntary hospitalisation.

Violations of Article 8 \(right to respect for private and family life\) and 9

Freedom of expression cases (Article 10)

Eigirdas and VI Demokratijos plėtros fondas v. Lithuania (no. 84048/17)

12.09.2023

The case concerned two articles published in Valstybė, one of which concerned, amongst other individuals, a prominent businessman and politician V.M., and the other, in particular, his son.

Violation of Article 10

Marcinkevičius v. Lithuania (no. 24919/20)

15.11.2022

The case concerned a court order issued to Mr Marcinkevičius to withdraw a statement – which the court had found to constitute a statement of fact and to be defamatory – given in an interview to Delfi, a news website, about another founder of the same company.

Violation of Article 10

Sekmadienis Ltd. v. Lithuania

30.01.2018

The case concerned the imposition of a fine on Sekmadienis Ltd., a clothing company, for displaying in Vilnius and on its website a series of advertisements deemed by the Lithuanian courts and other bodies to offend against public morals. The advertisements had used models and captions referring to "Jesus" and "Mary".

Violation of Article 10

Balsytė-Lideikienė v. Lithuania

04.11.2008

First case against Lithuania concerning hate speech. Lithuanian authorities confiscated and issued the applicant, former owner of a publishing company, with a warning for publishing and distributing the "Lithuanian calendar 2000", considered to promote ethnic hatred.

No violation of Article 10

Application inadmissible

Zarubin and Others v. Lithuania

19.12.2019

The case concerned Lithuania's expulsion and ban on re-entry of four Russian journalists working for Russian state-owned broadcaster Rossiya-24 after their actions at a conference in Vilnius.

Uspaskich v. Lithuania

20.12.2016

The case concerned a complaint brought by Viktor Uspaskich, a well-known former politician, about his house arrest pending the investigation of a political corruption case in Lithuania. He complained in particular that his house arrest had prevented him from taking part on equal grounds with other candidates in the parliamentary (Seimas) elections of 2007, alleging that the ongoing pre-trial investigation against him had been a convenient way to restrict his electoral rights.

No violation of Article 3 of Protocol No. 1

Prohibition of collective expulsion of aliens
(Article 4 of Protocol No. 4)

Application inadmissible

Zarubin and Others v. Lithuania

19.12.2019

The case concerned Lithuania's expulsion and ban on re-entry of four Russian journalists working for Russian state-owned broadcaster Rossiya-24 after their actions at a conference in Vilnius.

Noteworthy cases, decisions delivered

Kirkorov v. Lithuania

18.04.2024

The case concerned the ban on the applicant, a popular singer and music producer in Russia, from entering Lithuania because he was considered a threat to national security.

Application declared inadmissible.

Povilonis v. Lithuania

07.04.2022

The case concerned the unlawful construction of a house in a protected area, amid allegations of bribery and trading in influence. The applicant, who had bought the house in 2014, complained under Article 1 of Protocol No. 1 (protection of property) that he had been forced to demolish it at his own expense, despite having a building permit.

Application declared inadmissible.

Falkauskienė v. Lithuania

21.09.2017

The case concerned a dispute about a foreign currency deposit following Lithuania's independence in 1990. Ms Falkauskienė notably complained that it was impossible for her to recover an inheritance of 15,800 US dollars which she had deposited with a bank operating in Lithuania in 1991.

Application declared inadmissible.

Mockienė v. Lithuania

27.07.2017

The case concerned the reduction of welfare benefits during the economic crisis in Lithuania. The applicant, Danutė Mockienė, a former officer for the Prisons Department, complained that her service pension had been reduced by 15% when new legislation was in force in Lithuania from January 2010 to December 2013. She further complained that she had been discriminated against because those who received retirement pensions had been entitled to compensation for their reduced benefits whereas she had not.

Application declared inadmissible

Savickas and Others v. Lithuania

15.10.2013

The case mainly concerned the length of court proceedings brought by Lithuanian judges whose salaries had been reduced as part of a series of austerity measures. The proceedings before the Lithuanian courts lasted between nine and ten years, respectively.

Application declared inadmissible

The Court found in particular that, since a decision of the Lithuanian Supreme Court of 6 February 2007, the national courts had applied the criteria of the European Court of Human Rights' case-law in determining compensation for excessively lengthy court proceedings. It concluded that an effective remedy for length-of-proceeding complaints existed in Lithuania. Since the applicants had not lodged claims for damages with the Lithuanian courts, their complaint under Article 6 § 1 (right to a fair hearing within a reasonable time) was therefore inadmissible for their failure to exhaust the domestic remedies.

The Court also pointed out that the applicants in other cases concerning the length of civil, criminal or administrative proceedings in Lithuania lodged with it after 6 August 2007 – that is, six months after the Supreme Court's decision of 6 February 2007 – should use the remedy before the Lithuanian courts.

Borisov v. Lithuania

14.06.2011

Concerned complaint by a Russian national, a wealthy businessman in Lithuania and financial supporter of former President Paksas, about an order to deport him as he was considered a threat to national security (he was tried for menacing President Paksas). His family (including minor children) live in Lithuania.

The Court found that the complaint under Article 8 (right to respect of private and family life) had been resolved as Mr. Borisov had been granted a permanent residence permit in 2010 and had not been deported. Therefore it struck the case out of the list of cases pending for examination before it.
